

Åsa Jonsson, Human Settlements Officer
UN-Habitat

Session 2: Understanding the Gender Evaluation Criteria

Wednesday 20 June, 10.30-11.30 am

Dr Diane Dumashie FRICS
Chair Africa Task Force, FIG

Session 3: How to prepare for Evaluating Land Tools for Gender Equality

Understanding the Gender Evaluation Criteria

At the end of the session we should be able:

1. To gain an understanding of what the GEC is
2. To understand why gender evaluation of tools/interventions is important
3. To recognise how the GEC was developed through consultations
4. To explore the key features of the Gender Evaluation Criteria (GEC)
5. To create ownership of GEC emphasising shared principles, rather than fixed rules

Understanding the preparation process

At the end of the session we should be able:

1. To understand the purposes and challenges of gender evaluation of a land tool/intervention.
2. To consider how the GEC with its sources and indicators could provide the methodology for the proposed evaluation
3. To understand and engage within country context, by planning ahead
4. To anticipate and deal with likely needs and issues through an individual planning of an evaluation strategy
5. To adopt a proactive but systematic approach to the gender evaluation

Session 4:
How to evaluate a
Land Tool Evaluation
for Gender Equality

Session 5:
How to validate the findings and produce an evaluation report for
Land Tool Evaluation
for Gender Equality

Understanding how to carry out the evaluation

At the end of the session we should be able:

1. To understand the importance of collecting and consolidating quantitative and qualitative data
2. To practically use the sources, indicators to systematically score the tool
3. To prepare the final ground for the validation of the evaluation findings

Understanding how to carry out the evaluation

At the end of the session we should be able:

1. To understand the importance of validating the evaluation findings
2. To assess the effectiveness of the tool by calculating its overall score
3. To practically validate the evaluation findings and prepare a scorecard report with strengths, weaknesses and recommendations